

Craig Lanham
Midwest Technical Sales Manager

Craig joined Minco in January 2007 and has more than 25 years experience in the Foundry and Precision Investment Casting Industries. He is currently responsible for Silica Domestic Sales and Technical Support in the Midwest Region.

Craig holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Carroll College, Waukesha, WI. Craig's previous experience includes sales, technical support, process control, production and material management and general manager of a casting facility.