WDS III

PRODUCT BENEFITS

WDS III is a high performance flour blend for Investment Casting back up slurries.

- Improved permeability to help reduce non-fill and autoclave cracking.
- Non fiber based shell system optimized for parts with difficult geometries and detail.
- Improved knock out for easier shell removal.
- Optimized slurry rheology will substantially shorten your drain times and increase your foundry's output.
- Optimized shell build for uniform coverage of corners and edges without neglecting the flow needed to fill slots and holes in difficult castings.
- Reduce handling damage and cracking with a strong laminar shell.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

WDS III is a patented dry blend of Fused Silica and high performance additives that were jointly designed by Minco and Nalco research. The objective of this product was to build on the strengths of original Nalco Gray Matter® and Minco WDS investment casting shell systems. The increased shell build coupled with the improved permeability will help remove dips and minimize autoclave shell cracking.

PRODUCT APPLICATION

Because each foundry has different requirements, WDS III is engineered with built in flexibility to adjust for specific needs of each foundry. Your Nalco or Minco representative will work with each customer to optimize the blend for your process.

STORAGE AND HANDLING

Read the label and Material Safety Data Sheet for complete handling information before using this product. Bags should be stored in a dry location protected from the elements.
